

DIAM ATTITUDE

“Diam, a company
open to younger generations?”

Here's what our former interns and work-study trainees have to say...

DIAM ATTITUDE: EFFECTIVENESS

EMELINE GUARDIA

Work-study trainee in 2019
in the Sales Division.
Student enrolled in a Master's degree in International
Commerce Wines and Spirits

In 2019, I joined the company as the first work-study trainee in the sales division. Diam enabled me to become an independent and committed professional when I graduated with a Master's degree in International Commerce of Wines and Spirits.

And now... 28 years old, manager for a southern sector, developing our image as the guardian of aromas, in complete autonomy.

GABRIEL MIGNON

Intern in 2023 in the Safety Division
Student enrolled in an Associate's degree in Health - Safety - Environment

Despite my status as an intern, the entire Diam team helped me to fully integrate their missions, which enabled me to develop my skills in an atmosphere of trust and responsibility.

DIAM ATTITUDE: BOLDNESS

LUCA JOURDAIN

Work-study trainee from 2020 to 2023 in the Cumières Maintenance Division

As a work-study trainee at Diam, I was involved in some major projects right from the start and I felt the company's real commitment to developing young talents.

GAUTHIER REMETTER

Intern in 2023 in the Sales Division as a pre-master student at the Burgundy School of Business

Diam is a company that constantly innovates so as to improve employee wellbeing and ensure their successful integration.

Diam relies on a young team, giving interns opportunities and the possibility to take on responsibilities.

DIAM ATTITUDE: TEAM SPIRIT

I very quickly felt integrated within the company, both with regard to other interns and work-study trainees, and the Diam team in general. Even though I was very young, people listened to me, and I was given the opportunity to give my opinion on projects and to carry out certain assignments while they took the time to explain this sector of activity and its specific features that I wasn't aware of prior to arriving.

Diam offers opportunities and values younger generations by giving them real responsibilities and letting their creativity shine through.

ELOÏSE BULTÉ

Intern in 2022 in the Supply Chain Division while studying for a Bachelor's degree in International Management

DIAM ATTITUDE: TRUST

JUSTINE BONECASE

Intern in 2023 in the Communications Division.
Student in the second year of a Master's degree in Administration and Company Management

During my internship, I was asked about my vision for each assignment.

My colleagues created a climate of trust, which made the experience very enjoyable.

ALEX BARBOSA

Intern from February to July 2023
in the Scheduling Division.
Student in Mechanical Engineering

Diam is a company that is very open, not only to younger generations, but also to other cultures. As a Brazilian, I was warmly welcomed by my internship counselor and the whole Diam team. They showed a great deal of trust in me and allowed me to work autonomously.

DIAM ATTITUDE: RESPONSIBILITY

PIERRE SOULIER

Work-study trainee from 2021 to 2022 in the Safety Division. Student enrolled in a Bachelor's degree in Charge of Quality, Safety, Health in the workplace and the environment.

Unlike many other companies, at Diam work-study trainees are considered to be fully-fledged members of the team. We are given responsibilities as well as autonomy in our assignments.

Personally, I've had the opportunity to make suggestions and manage small projects, which was very rewarding for my studies and helped me to develop my career.
